CONGRESSIONAL HAPPENINGS IN WASHINGTON

By CLARENCE J. BROWN
Member of Congress

For the past ten days the Military Affairs Committee of the House has been holding secret sessions on proposed legislation for the control of the atomic bomb and the production of atomic energy, while a Senate Committee has been holding open sessions on the same subjects. Scientists have told the Senators the secret of atomic power cannot be kept, but will undoubtedly become known to other nations, including Russia, from within two to five years. According to the grapevine, the Administration sponsored legislation now being considered in the secret sessions of the House Committee provides for the naming of either a commission or a single administrator, with dictatorial powers, to control the atomic bomb and production of atomic energy, and to have the authority to decide whether the secret shall be shared with others. In fact, the proposed legislation is said to grant such absolute power to the administrator or commission that many members of the committee are objecting strenuously, and are attempting to write restrictions into the measure. At the present time it is evident that a majority of the Congress is opposed to turning the atomic secret over to other nations.

While most scientists agree there is no defense against the atomic bomb, one group insist they have found such a defense; and it is understood Navy experts have advised members of the Naval Affairs Committee of the House there is every indication a complete defense against the atom bomb may be fully developed within a short time. According to reports, it is even now possible to explode atom bombs by radio waves at distances as much as four miles. While some public figures, including Secretary of Commerce Henry Wallace, have almost reached a state of hysteria over the danger of atomic bombs, there are others who point out that all through World War II it was possible, at any time, to virtually destroy all life in any large city by the use of poison gas, but that all nations failed or refused to use it, simply because the same gas could have been used against their cities and civilian population; and that same situation may well develop in connection with the possible future use of the atomic bomb.

For the first time in nearly sixteen years—or since the coming of the New Deal, legislation reducing taxes has been approved by the House. Last House cut individual and corporation Thursday, by a vote of 343 to 10, the income taxes, and excise tax rates, for the year of 1946, by a total of five billion three hundred million dollars. The new tax bill, as explained in a more detailed way in our last letter, strikes 12 million low income individuals completely off the tax rolls, and reduces individual income taxes on others by four per centage points in each bracket, while making a similar reduction in all brackets on corporation income tax rates, and dropping excess profits taxes to sixty percent. The bill also provides for the reduction or elimination of excise taxes as of July 1st next, freezes Social Security taxes at the rate of one percent each on employer and employee, wipes out the five dollar automobile Use tax on June 30th, and repeals the capital stock tax on corporations. The new tax bill was designed only to give temporary relief for the year 1946, as the Ways and Means Committee of the House will start hearings in January on more permanent legislation to completely revamp the General Revenue Act and the Federal tax structure set up thereunder.

The nation's strike situation is becoming more alarming. As this is written there is grave danger of a nation-wide coal strike which would practically wreck the reconversion program. Telephone and transportation strikes also threaten. Congress stands ready and willing to enact any legislation which may be requested by the Administration to meet the situation. Recent action of the Fayette County Selective Service Board, at Washington, C. H., in refusing to order up more young men from the farms and rural communities for induction until and unless the Federal government does something to meet the present strike situation, has received a great deal of publicity and created much comment here in Washington.

Mr. Harold Cooley and wife are here on a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Cooley.

FREE PRESS FOR WORLD SAYS BROWN

The House Republican leadership in Congress has thrown its support behind a "world free press" drive.

Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr. of Mass., leader of the 189 Republicans in the House, has called a meeting for this week to unanimously approve a proposal to prohibit use of American relief funds in foreign nations not permitting press freedom.

Martin said in an interview the committee will consider an amendment to pending legislation appropriating an additional $55,000,000,000 for activities of the UNRRA.

The amendment was drafted by Rep. Clarence J. Brown, Republican, Ohio, who says it complies with a policy declaration of the American Society of Newspaper Editors issued last November.

Brown's amendment would prohibit the use of any U. S. contributions to country which:

Discriminates against any media of information.

Infringes upon freedom of information or expression.

Places any barriers, technical, political, legal or economic, against the exchange of information among the peoples of the world.

Censors information in time of peace.

Interferes with the freedom of the press.

"We shouldn't be spending our money in countries which won't let us know what they're doing with it, says Brown.

PUBLIC SALE SEASON

There are an unusual number of public sales this season which accounts for more sale advertising than ordinarily. Various reasons have been given for the sales. Some have sold their farms. Some are disgusted with the labor situation. Some farmers are retiring. Farmers of middle age who have carried on the past four years are compelled to relax to preserve their health. Others are done farming on orders out of Washington under controlled prices.

COLLEGE NEWS

Dr. F. A. Jurkat was guest speaker before the Catherine Chapter of the D. A. R. Xenia, last Wednesday afternoon. His subject was the UNO Charter. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Mary Little Dice.

President Vayhinger gave the sermon at the Second United Presbyterian Church, Xenia, last Sabbath morning. His theme was: "A Twentieth Century Application of the Miraculous Draft of Fishes."

Mrs. John Sanders spent the week-end with her husband, Sgt. John Sanders, in Chicago. John is one of several million who is marking time and wondering when the day of return to civil life will come. Processing is a rather ticklish job. Red tape is thick and circuitous.

Kenneth Ferryman who entered college last week, has withdrawn to accept a position in West Liberty high school near Bellefontaine, O. The need of teachers is so great that Kenneth decided to finish the few hours he needs for graduation by extension or summer term to do his bit toward filling the shortage. Doesn't seem possible that just a few years ago in depression times there was a 5,000 surplus of teachers in Ohio!

Another GI, Robert K. Allen, writes that he will receive his discharge this week. He was located in New Hampshire but was rushed off to North Carolina to be processed. He has been waiting with such patience as he possessed for the past three weeks for the day when he returns to civies. He plans to finish his education, interrupted by the call of his Country to come to her defense.

Chi Sigma Phi held a party at Harriman Hall a week ago last night. A program for the year has been worked.

Last evening the Frosh entertained out. The Upper Classmen with a hayride and feed. The team, the hay, and the high wheeled wagon are no more in the picture. Why call it a 'hayride'?

Dr. Wallace W. Iliffe, graduate of CC forty-five years ago by his own statement was Chapel speaker Tuesday morning. His address was interesting, forceful, and helpful. He pled that young people seek not wealth as a goal but to be of use to their fellowmen. A man's wealth consists not in world goods, Dr. and Mrs. Iliffe plan to spend the winter months in warmer climes.

C. H. CROUSE DIED LAST THURSDAY

Death removed one of our leading citizens Thursday at 9:30 P. M. when Charles H. Crouse, 69, yielded to the inevitable after ill health for eight months. He was stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage three days previous.

Mr. Crouse was the son of C. W. and Mary Catherine, Gilhaugh Crouse, and was born in Xenia, June 26, 1876. His father moved to this place and opened a meat and grocery store and the business was taken over later by the son. Outside of about ten years on the farm, Charles had devoted his entire life to the retail trade. He retired in April 1944 and spent most of his time on his farm.

Mr. Crouse served on the village council for about 28 years and also as vice mayor due to being president of council. He was an active and devoted church worker and a member of the local Methodist Church. He was also a member of the Progressive Club. The deceased is survived by his widow, Mrs. Callie Devoe Crouse; a daughter, Mrs. Ralph Townsley of this place, three step-grandchildren, Mrs. Leroy Kiger, Dayton; Howard and Glenn W. Devoe, near Xenia; a sister Mrs. Sidney Smith, Cedarville; two grandchildren and two nieces. His first wife, Mrs. Hettie Landecker died in 1935.

The funeral was held from the Methodist Church, Sunday afternoon, the service being in charge of Dr. H. H. Abels assisted by Dr. R. A. Jamieson. Burial took place in North Cemetery.

DRAFT BOARD REFUSES TO SEND INDUCTEES DUE TO STRIKES

The Fayette County draft board refuses to change its position that no more boys will be sent from that county until the administration shows some signs of stopping strikes. The board says it is not fair to put our youth in the army and then let organized labor leaders tie up the nation at this critical time in reconversion.

Attention is again called to the attention of the Greene County nominating committee, calling attention to the fact that there is still a vacancy on board No. 2 that should be filled. After months of search the committee has failed to find anyone who will even consider the use of his name. Even supporters of the present administration turn-down any mention of accepting the place.

LICENSED, THEN WHAT?

WE KNEW HIM AS YOU KNEW HIM

With the passing of Charles H. Crouse, Cedarville lost a citizen of which all towns have too few. While he had retired from active business his retirement had been but of a few months. Practically all his active life had been spent in the village or community. During his early life in the teens of youth he was a resident of Cedar St., a neighbor of the writer of this sentimental record. His early life was one of unusual activity as being an aid to his father in business. The days were never too long and the hours of arising day in and day out was usually before the break of day. To this day we can still recall the sound of the double team and light wagon as it rambled at quick pace past our home at 8:30 in midsummer that meat could be delivered among the country folk before the heat of the day for refrigeration in the private home was unknown in those days. Mr. Crouse lived from the period of individualism to that of collectivism. In his days there was no regulation of the hour of his place of business was to open or when it was to close. We recall one statement he made during the early days of the OPA and we always have thought it had much to do with his retirement. It was following a visit of an OPA snooper. "I'll tell you its pretty tough to run your own business fifty years and then have some fellow that knows nothing about it come in and tell you what we have to do." Thousands of business men today express the same sentiment and wonder why they are in business.

In public life Mr. Crouse served as a member of council 28 years. He always took an interest in what was best for his community. His earnestness and zeal for the religious life was just as marked as his interest in his private affairs. His benefactions most times were personal sacrifices, no doubt due to deep religious convictions and tender sympathy for any in distress. Those that knew Charles Crouse as he lived only knew him as we have known him from boyhood days to his passing hour. Cedarville has profited through the years from the influence of the character that is now but a memory.

GEN. MAC ARTHUR COMES INTO HIS OWN

With the war terminated in Japan the history to be recorded for future generations will hold a place for General Douglas MacArthur and his great military achievement. With the war ended and the matter of placing Japan under a new form of government, his record for establishing orderly government in a nation where dictatorship has ruled for hundreds of years, is a record that has opened the eyes of our best jurists, our leaders in and out of congress, in banking circles as well as in the educational and religious field. It is proof of the kind of metal we have had to head our armed forces in the Pacific. As he once informed Franklin D. Roosevelt, his Commander-in-Chief, "I was sent here (to Japan) to do a job, and I will not leave it until it has been completed."

The Washington brass hats have talked about keeping several million of our armed forces in Japan for ten, twenty-five or even fifty years. MacArthur has notified Washington in a recent radio address that mid-1946 he will only need 250,000 men. What a contrast between the dreamers in Washington and the man on the job. Think what MacArthur has done with a handful of men compared with the millions sent to Europe. Think again how he was snubbed by the White House after his name had been mentioned as a presidential nominee. Think how he pleaded with Washington to send him more forces to save the lives of thousands of our men that were facing hundreds of thousands of trained Jap troops.

Consider what has been accomplished and know that Russia is demanding a share of the loot after being in active engagement but two weeks before Japan showed the white flag and threw down her arms. History will record Gen. MacArthur as the greatest military strategist of all time. He deserves the plaudits of the people and the highest decoration by his own government.

WANT GOVERNMENT TO DO TOO MUCH

Every man willing and able to work is entitled to a job at good wages. This also is true of every woman who must support herself. We preface what we are going to say with these statements.

It is not the duty of a government to insure every citizen a job at good wages and it is not the duty of government to pay every citizen enough to support himself and his family if he is unemployed. It seems to be the idea of many labor leaders and social workers that our government should provide a job for every person who says he is willing and able to work and if a man is unemployed that he will receive pay from the government, some want the pay to be as high as $25 a week for 26 weeks of unemployment. These are the so called advocates of "security from the cradle to the grave" for everyone.

We believe in unemployment compensation, in social security and old age pensions. But all of these should be kept within reasonable limits. It should not be made attractive for a man to be unemployed. Our citizens should not be led to believe that it is the obligation of the government to take care of them; that they do not have anything to worry about, that there is no reason for them to save and through their own efforts win security for themselves.

Ever since the start of the war it has been too easy to get a job and too easy to hold one. Employees have been doing about as they pleased and employers have had to stand for loading and inefficiency. A man didn't have to do good work to hold a job. There has been a complete reversal of the condition that existed during the depression when jobs were scarce. Then employers dictated the wages they would pay and were particular about who they employed. Both the depression and the war conditions were wrong.

It is the obligation of an employer to pay good wages for good work. It is just as much the obligation of employees to give good and faithful service to their employers. We believe it will be better for both employers and employees if there is a medium between the depression and war time conditions. Every man should give full value for his wages. Every employer should pay employees the full value for their services.

The government should do so little for its citizens that they will have the ambition and incentive to win their own security. Only on such a basis can there be real prosperity in our country. A man is not a truly good citizen unless he is self-supporting. Every man should have the opportunity to earn a good living. He should not want or expect more. These should rule over themselves and not their government.

WHO MAKES UP MAIL ORDER DEFICIT?

Mr. Truman inherited a bad egg when he took office and informed the public he would fulfill FDR's pledges. By so doing he took on a handful. He inherited the Montgomery Ward case in Chicago. He wants to turn the plant back to the company but FDR set the wage rate of union strikers so high the company has lost money—under government management. The government owes about $1,000,000 in back wages. So far Mr. Truman has not found a manager that can pull the company out of the "red". Pretty good evidence why the White House opposes taking over private business. Probably Elliott Roosevelt knows some way to melt a $1,000,000 debt.

Imagine how your son feels if he was one of the 65,000 returning war veterans held up by a strike of longshoremen in New York and other cities on the Atlantic coast. Think of being on boat 15 days at least twelve miles from shore and unable to land where each and everyone could get back home to wives, mothers, sweethearts. Our fighting forces brought several million Germans to their knees, yet 65,000 laid away from shore because the Democrats in Washington were afraid to cross-battle the labor leaders. Not a man in the administration dared propose giving our men aboard protection from the union hoodlums that might cause bodily harm to men fresh from the battle front as if they could not defend themselves if given the weapons. Mr. Truman is not growing in stature with the public due to the strike situation.

The Secretary of Labor has thrown up his hands in handling the coal dispute and has been unable to bring the operators and miners together. John L. knows how to play his cards in this union poker game. Union leaders have taken the air and are heaving bricks towards the White House and its occupant. Even "Uncle Dan Tobin" as PDR called him is asking Mr. Truman many pointed questions. The Teamster's Union is getting restless. It wants war time wages for forty or less hours a week. The "Teamster" is in record of pointing the way in the last issue how Mr. Truman can win and hold the union vote. All he has to do is to increase wages and shorten hours. That would not be inflation but $1.50 cent and 20c hogs would be disastrous to the nation.

It certainly is time for the farm organizations to get busy and make new demands. This watchful waiting policy is going to put every farmer behind the eight-ball. The Truman administration is going to give the union what they want but they are not going to give the increase all at once. What is needed now is a new slogan of increased wages without any chance of bringing on inflation. The farmer is now tied to the 1942 parity setup. You hear no talk about going back to 1942 in prices for what the farmer must purchase. You do not hear of 1914 farm wages as aid to the farmer.

One large manufacturer of farm machinery states his company will be closed down soon unless he can get more steel and other materials for farm machinery. The coal strike now covers more than 800 mines and 200,000 miners. Winter is around the corner. Homes, schools, churches must be heated, but how? The situation is growing worse each day. You are going to see tighter times between now and spring than ever before. Farmers now find many out of a job now waiting for that $25 weekly check from Uncle Sam for not working.

The administration might just as well make up its mind that higher pay and no relief for the farmer, is the first step to a depression. You can recall the government only a year or so ago let the price of hogs go down. They broke faith with farmers. But the farmer did something else, he reduced his pig crop and it has been going down a month and few hogs so far going to market. The farmer has the opportunity of using wheat as a direct. Wheat seedling is to be much later than in many years for most farmers. A short acreage and you get a scarcity crop the next year. The administration is monkeying with the hand wagon in this strike situation. If labor gets higher wages the farmer is entitled to more for his crops or he goes on a paying strike. That closes factories and men out of work. Let one and all remember what the farmer did when the New Deal broke faith with the farmer on support price and the same thing can happen now on wheat.

O. T. Marshall of Ross Township, one of the leading wheat farmers in the county stated Tuesday he would only put out 25 acres instead of the 76 he had planned. His deadline for seeding is around Oct. 15th any year and he usually has his wheat sown late in September if the season warrants. He usually has fallow grounds for wheat. Mr. Marshall enjoys a good five year record for wheat yield. From 25 to 42 bushels per acre on a farm of mostly black land. Some farmers have now given up hope of sowing wheat as the risk is not ripe. It hardly pays to risk one crop to get another. Where corn has been picked it is being spread out in many places on the barn floor to keep it from heating.

form the custodian of this column that the selling price on oysters in a down town central market are 80c a pint for the small and 90c a pint for the larger size. He mentioned that cooked Shrimp is priced at $1.15 a pint. New Deal calling prices he wanted to know whether we had knowledge that calling prices on many articles depended on the amount any industry contributed to the Democratic campaign. We confess ignorance but we would guess the way some union spell-binding for the unions over the air lambast the Truman administration, the Democrats may not be able to touch the union cash boxes or even make a loan as Roosevelt did with John L. Lewis for $500,000.

The campaign for mayor in New York City is unusual. Mayor LaGuardia formerly was a great Roosevelt backer. He is not a candidate but he has a slate they term themselves as the "No Dealers" The Democrats have a Tammany candidate but he makes no mention of the New Deal, not even referring to the former occupant of the White House that took over Tammany Hall from the Al Smith Democrats and moved in a lot of half-baked Communists.

WHY PRIVATE GULLIVER SMITH WAS DELAYED...

TUNE IN "THE TELEPHONE HOUR"
Mondays at 9 P. M.

THE OHIO BELL TELEPHONE CO.

Many a homesick G. I. can be tied up as effectively as was the legendary Gulliver by thoughtless use of long distance these days. None of us intentionally would block a returning serviceman's thrilling first call to the folks back home. But long distance lines are so busy now that a needlessly long conversation or an unnecessary call can do exactly that.

So let's all team up and clear the way for our victorious G. I.'s by doing two things:

1 Make only urgent long distance calls during the next few months when circuits will be jammed with servicemen's calls home.

2 Be Brief. When others are waiting, the operator will remind you by saying: "Please limit your call to five minutes."

WHO WANTS SOME STRONG

NEW DEAL BUTTER?

The New Deal has 80,000,000 pounds of butter that is growing strong and it is to be put on the market. Part of this allotment is now ready for the soap manufacturers who will pay a round 5 cents a pound for it when it cost Uncle Sam fifty cents or more. New Deal economy. Buy butter to get it off the market to create a scarcity as an excuse of continuing OPA and the red points.

Where now, Soldier?

DO you know what happens to a soldier from the time he sets foot on these shores to be honorably discharged until he either returns to his old job or finds himself a new one?

It's not the routine he goes through, the places he visits, the people he sees—it's what happens inside him.

He feels, oddly enough, now that it's all over, lonely. Home, now, is the thing that's strange and new and unfamiliar to him. And he gets sharp hankering for the old, free, understanding companionship of fellow GI's.

Now, when he needs it most — during this critical period of readjustment — where can he find, temporarily, this world he has grown so familiar with, and which he now must leave behind?

To ease his readjustment, to give him a place to go when that strange lonely feeling comes over him, the U. S. O. welcomes him with open arms at its club houses everywhere—whether he's in or out of uniform.

It does for him, on his first return to civilian life, what it did for him when he first entered military life—it helps him over the hump.

The U. S. O. can't claim credit for this alone. You get most of the credit—for you, through your contribution to your local Community War Fund, provide the funds on which the U. S. O., and your own local agencies, operate.

The U. S. O.'s job, now—with youngsters just going into service and veterans leaving it — is bigger than ever before. So — won't you make your contribution, this year, equal to it?
